Art Display
We will have liturgical art displayed in Lobby A. Please see page 58 for more information. Lyle Novinski, a well-known painter, designer, lecturer, and Professor Emeritus at the University of Dallas, is also demonstrating sacred art sculpting in the center of Hall A. We invite you to enjoy the artwork.

ATM
There is an ATM located in Lobby A, near the entrance to the Arena.

Cell Phones/Pagers
Out of respect for the speakers and other participants, please turn off your cell phones and pagers during the sessions and liturgies.

Downtown Dallas
If you would like more information about the downtown Dallas area, please visit the Convention’s Bureau booth located on Level 1 in Lobby A/B (just inside from the circle drive).

Emergencies
If you have an emergency, contact either a UDMC staff member, volunteer, or the closest security guard. If you are unable to find assistance, call facility dispatch at 214-939-2941. Remember, in an emergency, it is important to stay calm. We do have EMTs on site for this event.

Evaluations
Thank you for filling out the various evaluations following each session you attend. We would also like your assistance with a general conference evaluation. It can be found at our website at www.udallas.edu/udmc/evaluation. Simply submit it online. Anyone who completes the evaluation before November 15, 2011, and provides us with their personal information will be eligible to win 20 two-day conference passes (equivalent to 1 group registration) to the 2012 UD Ministry Conference.

Exhibits
Exhibit Hours
Exhibits are located in Hall A. See pages 62 for a listing of exhibitors. The exhibits are open Friday, 8:00AM – 6:00PM and Saturday, 8:00AM – 5:00PM. If you participate in any exhibit drawing during the conference, the winners will be announced on the Spotlight Stage in Hall A on Saturday at 4:30PM.

Information
Please see someone at UDMC Information Booth located in Lobby A for general information or questions. You can also ask a volunteer found throughout the center in blue UDMC shirts.

Liturgy
All the liturgies and prayer services will be held in the Arena. We invite you to come and participate with your fellow conference participants in prayer and worship.

Lost and Found
Lost and found is located at the UDMC Information Booth located in Lobby A. If you find something while you are attending the conference, please turn it in at this location.

Meal Options
Food and beverage is not included in the registration fee. You will find several concession and food areas around the convention center, especially outside the Arena and inside Hall A. Food may also be available in the Food Court area and at Starbucks and Gourmet to Go (both near Hall C). There are also several restaurants within walking distance of the Convention Center.

Message Center
The Message Center, located right inside Hall A, can receive incoming messages. Feel free to leave a note on the Message Board.

Museum of Biblical Art Tour
The conference is pleased to offer a special evening tour of the Dallas Museum of Biblical Art. The bus will leave the convention center at 6:30PM, returning at 9:30PM. For only $25, the tour includes transportation to and from the museum, entrance to all exhibits, and a private guided tour of the William Schickel exhibit by Professor Lyle Novinski. Visit the Registration Booths during the conference to purchase a ticket.

Name Badges
Please wear your name badge at all times while at the conference. This is your ticket into all of the sessions, musical performances, and the exhibit hall. If you forget or lose your name badge, we will print a new one at the Registration Booths for a $5.00 cash replacement fee. We would appreciate it if you recycled your badge holder after the conference. Simply place your plastic holder in the designated boxes as you leave the convention center. Thank you!

Parking
The Convention Center has its own parking garage that costs $12 per vehicle, with no in-and-out service. The main garage entrance is on Griffin Street between Memorial Street and Canton Street. There are also other ground level parking options available throughout the downtown Dallas area.
The UDMC acknowledges with appreciation the many volunteers who served on the 2011 Planning Committee. We are very grateful for their generous time, support, and talent.

A135-136

Too old for this, too young for that – welcome to the world of young adolescents! How do we find what’s “just right” to reach and teach these energetic, inquisitive and often outspoken youth? Whether you live with, work with or simply wonder about 6th-9th graders, this session will help you understand why they are the way they are….and provide practical ideas for forming faith with them at church, at home and even in the car!

Also being presented in Session IX

III-02 “DISCIPLESHIP-SHAPED” MINISTRY WITH TEENS AND YOUNG ADULTS
Jim Beckman
Ballroom A4

The whole aim of the Church is to evangelize and catechize, and for those who work with young people it is our central task. What is the difference between a follower of Christ and a disciple? And how do we make disciples of the young people that we work with? This session gets to the heart of discipleship ministry with young people, revealing the earmarks and tools for effective discipleship, and the key ingredients necessary to walk with young people into owned and lived faith.

Also being presented in Session IV

III-03 AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION: POSITIVE BEHAVIORAL SUPPORTS FOR CATHOLIC SCHOOLS
Dr. Michael J. Boyle, Ph.D.
Ballroom A3

Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) is a powerful process to create a system of supports to prevent problem behaviors before they occur. This session will present the PBIS framework and give a specific focus on implementation in Catholic schools.

Also being presented in Session IV

III-04 WALKING TOGETHER AS FAITH-ALIVE CATHOLIC SCHOOLS
Dr. Elinor Ford

Catholic schools are the Church’s wise investment to ensure that among its future generations are members who have received an in-depth faith education rooted in living daily in the spirit of Jesus Christ. This education is provided by the passionate witness of the school’s committed, competent and ever-caring faculty and staff. This keynote will describe both the wonder of those who truly minister in Catholic schools, and provide ways that they and those served can grow in wisdom, age and grace.

Session IV – 3:30 – 4:30 PM

IV-01 EVANGELIZATION: INTRA-FaITH AND INTER-FaITH DIALOGUE
Dr. Greer G. Gordon
A131

This session will address the historic tension between Evangelical Protestant understanding of apologetics and Roman Catholic understanding of apologetics and ecumenism and offer insights into Evangelical Protestant understanding of apologetics and Roman Catholic understanding of intra-faith dialogue in relation to New Apologetics. This session is recommended for Evangelization personnel, and those who live, work, and/or minister with evangelical protestant communities.

Also being presented in Session VII

Session V – 4:30 – 5:30 PM

V-01 PLAYING WITH JESUS: MAKING FAITH COMANGES
Rev. Timothy Heines
A118-119

Our celebration of Christian liturgy is an inherently formational act as it builds us up together as Christ’s body and helps each participant to grow more into the image and likeness of Christ. In this talk, Rev. Heines looks at five perspectives that liturgists and catechists might keep in mind to ensure that the naturally formational dimensions of our Christian worship can truly reap the greatest fruit in each celebration. Drawing upon the writings of contemporary liturgical theologians and pastoral practice, Rev. Heines hopes these five ways can ensure that each member of an assembly and the assembly of the whole can lay claim to the riches available in every celebration for growth in Christ.

Session VI – 8:00 – 9:00 PM

VI-01 ANNUAL DINNER KEYNOTE
Lisa Hendey
A122-123

This keynote will describe both the wonder of those who truly minister in Catholic schools, and provide ways that they and those served can grow in wisdom, age and grace.
Join Lisa Hendey for a look at the saints – some popular and some less well known – who intercede for us along our path to heaven. Learn more about the lives of specific saints who serve as role models of a commitment to justice, courage and virtue. Discuss creative activities for sharing the lives of these holy men and women with your family, students, or ministry members.

III-08 “WHO IS MY NEIGHBOR?” BIBLICAL PERSPECTIVES ON ETHNIC INCLUSIVITY

Angeline Hubert A124-127
In answer to the question “Who is my neighbor?” Jesus told the parable of the Good Samaritan. The lawyer’s question and Jesus’ response throw light on the topic of this session. Using the parable and other scriptural texts, we will explore what the Bible has to say about openness and inclusivity within the Christian community. This exploration will enrich your faith experience, affirm your loving response to the neighbor you meet in your daily life and work, and deepen your understanding of the scriptural basis of openness to the other.

Also being presented in Session VIII

III-09 WORKING TOGETHER: COLLABORATION IN THE PARISH

Dr. Marti Jewell, D.Min. A130
One of the most pressing questions pastoral leaders have is about collaboration. How do men and women work together? Pastors, parish staff, and parishioners? How do we recognize the unique role and contribution of each? Please join us as we look at healthy models of collaboration and how they show up in parish ministry.

III-13 BEYOND EARTH

Dr. Richard Olenick, Ph.D. A301
The search for planets around other stars (exoplanets) has yielded over five hundred alien worlds beyond imagination. With each new world, astronomers are forced to rethink how planets form, the chances for earth-like planets, and the lessons other worlds teach us. The growing number of exoplanets also raises theological questions centered on how to understand Christ in light of the immensity of the universe and the possibility of life beyond Earth. We will examine the ways in which astronomers search for worlds beyond Earth, the prospects for finding earth-like planets, and the moral and theological questions that arise from research.

IV-02  LEADING WITH SOUL
Dr. Lee G. Bolman, Ph.D.  Ballroom A4
To prevail in the face of violence, homelessness, malaise, and many other spiritual challenges of modern life, we need a vision of leadership rooted in the enduring sense of human wisdom, spirit, and heart. We need a new generation of seekers. We need a revolution in how we think about and develop leaders. Most management and leadership development programs ignore or demean spirit. They desperately need an infusion of spiritual forms such as poetry, literature, music, art, theater, history, philosophy, and dance. This program will explore the cultural bereavement rituals of ethnic groups within our church, the role evangelization plays in bereavement, and how to develop faith-based grief support. Come prepared to share your experiences and questions related to ministry to the bereaved.

IV-10 PRESENTS OR PRESENCE: GOD’S PROMISES AND OUR EXPECTATIONS
Gene Giuliano, M.A. A310

But what is it that God promises? And do our expectations match what is promised? It is all about “presents” or “presence” as this session reflects on the nature of the gift God offers and on the depth of our desire to want it and to accept it.

V-06  THE CROSS AS TRANSFORMATION
Dr. Greer G. Gordon   A131
Across the cultural, economic and educational spectrum, people appear to be suffering from hopelessness. Overwhelmed, this hopelessness many have fallen into depression or depraved behaviors. As Christians, we claim to be heirs to a promise that overcomes death. We profess that, through the death and resurrection of Christ, our loss has been transformed and redeemed. This session addresses the continuing need to unfold the meaning of the cross for a suffering world and offers insights into the necessity of teaching the enigma of the cross as a sign of hope. For in the midst of the darkness and despair, there is the transforming light of the resurrected crucified Christ. This session is recommended for those engaged in the ministries of evangelization, catechesis, pastoral care, youth, young adult, and small faith communities.

V-07  THE FIVE NON-NEGOTIABLES
Sheree Whitters Havlik   A135-136
This presentation addresses the Church teachings on the five non-negotiables: abortion, euthanasia, stem cell research, cloning, and same-sex marriage. Society and the media can make us believe what is intrinsically wrong is really right. We are blessed that our Church not only takes a stand for what is right, but also provides us with the knowledge to do what is right through the Catechism and encyclicals, guiding us through difficult situations in life. Understanding the teachings gives us confidence in our own decisions and the ability to support others through similar difficult decisions.

The teaching of the Church will be examined as a foundation for advocacy of migrant workers and families. The bishops seek “A more orderly system that accommodates the reality of migration and promotes just application of civil law…We invite Catholics and persons of good will in both nations to exercise their faith and to use their resources and gifts to truly welcome the stranger among us (cf. Mt 25:35).” The specific responsibilities of the call will be explored including legislating a just system of migration flow, maintaining birthright citizenship, opposing the criminalization of undocumented workers, giving due process rights to all the undocumented, and treating all migrants with dignity and respect.

VII-14 BEYOND EARTH

Dr. Richard Olenick, Ph.D.  A302-303
The search for planets around other stars (exoplanets) have yielded over five hundred alien worlds beyond imagination. With each new world, astronomers are forced to rethink how planets form, the chances for earth-like planets, and the lessons other worlds teach us. The growing number of exoplanets also raises theological questions centered on how to understand Christ in light of the immensity of the universe and the possibility of life beyond Earth. We will examine the ways in which astronomers search for worlds beyond Earth, the prospects for finding earth-like planets, and the moral and theological questions that arise from research.

VII-18 HOW DOES THE BIG BANG AND EVOLUTION FIT IN WITH DIVINE CREATION?
Rev. William Stoeger, S.J.  A122-123
Rev. Stoeger’s talk will show how our knowledge of the universe and its history enriches our understanding of divine creation, and how a proper Catholic understanding complements what we know from astronomy, physics, and biology. He will sketch the history of our amazing universe from the Big Bang to the present, and briefly discuss cosmic and biological evolution. In doing so he will stress that these processes originate in and are enabled by God’s ongoing creative act. Rev. Stoeger will outline the Catholic understanding of divine creation and how it is not only fully compatible with all that we know from the sciences, but helps us appreciate their strengths and limitations.

VII-19 REVISED TRANSLATION OF THE NEW MISSAL
Rev. Gavin N. Vaverek, JCL  Ballroom A2
At last! We finally have the long awaited English version of the Third Typical Edition of the Roman Missal. The language of prayer powerfully expresses our faith, even as it forms us in that faith. After 35 years with the current “Sacramentary,” what significance and what explanations do we want to have as we prepare for the First Sunday of Advent? Whether you have been looking forward to this, been dreading it, or just tuning in…now is a great time to take a fresh look at our language of prayer.

VIII-01 THE POPE’S PR PROBLEM
John Allen, Jr.  Arena
There’s a great story to tell about Pope Benedict XVI, beginning with his deep commitment to “Affirmative Orthodoxy” – presenting classic Christian teaching in the most positive key possible. Persistent communications woes at the Vatican, however, sometimes make that story hard to get across to a general audience. This session examines several case studies drawn from recent experience, extracting larger lessons for the enterprise of Church communications at all levels.

VIII-02 PRIEST FACULTIES AND PRENUPTIAL PAPERWORK PROCESSING IN THE DALLAS DIOCESE
Margaret Gillett  A302-303
The session will cover, in general, the newly issued Faculties for the Priests of the Diocese of Dallas and, in particular, those faculties relating to marriage. The presentation will concentrate on the paperwork aspect of preparing a couple in the Dallas diocese for marriage, whether the wedding will occur in the Dallas diocese or outside the Dallas diocese. Time will be provided for questions during and/or after the session.

VIII-03 THE FIVE NON-NEGOTIABLES
Sheree Whitters Havlik  A114-116
This presentation addresses the Church teachings on the five non-negotiables: abortion, euthanasia, stem cell research, cloning, and same-sex marriage. Society and the media can make us believe what is intrinsically wrong is really right. We are blessed that our Church not only takes a stand for what is right, but also provides us with the knowledge to do what is right through the Catechism and encyclicals, guiding us through difficult situations in life. Understanding the teachings gives us confidence in our own decisions and the ability to support others through similar difficult decisions.

VIII-04 “WHO IS MY NEIGHBOR?” BIBLICAL PERSPECTIVES ON ETHNIC INCLUSIVITY
Angeline Hubert  A115
In answer to the question “Who is my neighbor?” Jesus told the parable of the Good Samaritan. The lawyer’s question and Jesus’ response throw light on the topic of this session. Using the parable and other scriptural texts, we will explore what the Bible has to say about openness and inclusivity within the Christian community. This exploration will enrich your faith experience, affirm your loving response to the neighbor you meet in your daily life and work, and deepen your understanding of the scriptural basis of openness to the other.

VIII-05 A SCIENTIST’S PRIMER ON THE UNIVERSE
Dr. Jonathan Lunine, Ph.D.  A308
Our modern picture of the cosmos is vastly different from that in the ages when Paul, Augustine, and Aquinas wrote. How does our modern understanding of the universe influence theology? Must we as Catholics pretend that we live in a heliocentric universe? Are the cosmos and planetary scientist, and will invite the audience to do the same.
VIII-06  MASTER ORCHESTRATOR AND CO-WORKER: A DIFFICULT BALANCE
Leland D. Nagel
Using the best of the NDC, Our Hearts Were Burning, and Co-workers, participants will discover how to create the catechetical moment where those attending encounter, engage, embrace, evangelize. You can’t just tell the good news, you have to be the good news. This is a unique approach to hone your skills as the orchestrator of faith formation while working with, by, and for those who answered the call to be a catechist.

VIII-07  “WHO WANTS TO BE A CATHOLIC MILLIONAIRE?”
Linda Khirallah Porter, MTS
Are You Smarter than a Fifth Grader?  Wheel of Fortune?  Taboo?  Jeopardy?  Password?  Sounds like a game show! You’re right! Faith formation and managing the environment in catechetical sessions has always been a challenge. Whether we are preparing our faithful for welcoming the revised Roman Missal, unpacking the beliefs of our Creed for Christian Initiation, or forming our 7 year olds to celebrate Reconciliation for the first time, these encounters can be amazing experiences through interactive, exciting, and enjoyable ways. Adults, young and old, and children of all ages are truly catechized and converted when they are engaged in handing on their faith. Come and join us and experience how you can ignite the flame of faith within the participants in your faith formation sessions. Be ready to play!

VIII-08  JUNIOR HIGH/HIGH SCHOOL PRAYER…THE OTHER SIX AND A HALF DAYS OF THE WEEK
Anna Scally
As a Church, we have exactly what young people are searching for; why are some of them not hearing this? It may be easier than you think. Imagine the possibilities of helping teens pray more meaningfully. Discover an approach that gets teens excited about their spiritual journey and praying. Finish this workshop with proven principles to challenge teens to lead prayer, participate actively in retreats, classroom, and ministry settings. As a bonus to you, watch your conversation with God become more alive as well!

VIII-09  BIBLICAL LITERACY MADE EASY
Brian Singer-Towns, MThS
Every teacher, catechist, and minister is called to foster biblical literacy in the people we minister to. But are we clear about what our goals should be for this task? This workshop will introduce the A, B, C’s of biblical literacy, an easy to follow structure to guide your efforts.

VIII-10  COMPLETING THE PUZZLE – AUTISM 101
Melissa Waldon, M.S.
The Pastoral Statement of U.S. Catholic Bishops on Persons with Disabilities encourages people to reexamine their attitudes towards their brothers and sisters with disabilities. Today, we will briefly cover what this document tells us about catechesis to children with special needs. Since it is estimated that 1 in 110 in the United States have autism, we will explore more deeply the disability of autism and complete “the puzzle” for the most effective strategies to meet the needs of the learner and aide the catechist in the catechetical setting.

Session IX – 3:30 – 4:30 PM

Whether you live with, work with or simply wonder about 6th-9th graders, this session will help you understand why they are the way they are….and provide practical ideas for forming faith with them at church, at home and even in the car!

IX-02  SCREWTAPE LETTERS AND THE CATECHISM OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

IX-03  FORMING EVANGELIZERS: THE RIGHT STUFF
Dr. Carole Eipers, D.Min.
Evangelii Nuntiandi reminds us that the Church “exists in order to evangelize.” How is our catechizing faithful to that mission? We will consider who we need to be and what we need to do to hold evangelization as the goal and measure of our catechetical efforts.

IX-04  TIME OUT! PRAYING WITH SCRIPTURE AND EMBODYING THE WORD
Sr. Esther Guerrero, MCDP, MTS
You need a new approach to reading Scripture? Discover that prayer is not limited to one form. Learn the process of praying with Scripture. Allow God to inspire your reading and use you as an instrument to speak to the hearts of others.

IX-05  GRAY HAIR IS THE CROWN OF GLORY: AGING AND THE ELDERLY IN THE BIBLE
Angeline Hubert
As those 65 and older become the fastest growing segment of the U. S. population, issues of aging and the elderly are coming to the fore. Historically, wisdom has been associated with elders. How can today’s elders use their wisdom to build the community? How do we as a Catholic, Christian community respond to the elders in our midst? What insights on aging and the elderly can we find in scripture? This session will explore how the wisdom found in the Bible can offer guidance for our response to the “golden years.

IX-06 SEEKING GOD: LESSONS FROM THE TRADITION
Dr. Marti Jewell, D.Min. A130
Catholicism has a rich and long tradition of spirituality. Monastics, mystics, and moderns have taught us much about the journey to God. What does this journey look like in today’s world? Where can we find God? This workshop will look at what we have learned from our forefathers and mothers and how we are being called to seek God in today’s world.

IX-10 HOOK, LINE AND SINKER...AND THE WORM
Elizabeth Madeo A122-123
Need some fresh ideas for your catechists or your own classroom? Learn about a simple method to prepare lessons: Hook, Line, Sinker...and the Worm. Hook them into the lesson, use line to take them deeper, anchor them in prayer and don’t forget to feed them the worm. By keeping these four things in mind, lesson plans reiterate a lesson multiple times throughout a class! While the lesson plan guides the class, creative icebreakers, prayer, activities, and even snacks are what engage children and youth and point them directly to the focus – Christ.

Communities of Prayer (Tom Grossman)

Fri – 4:00PM (BLS) | Sat – 9:30AM (HAPS) | Sat – 3:00PM (BLS)

Communities of Prayer (COP) strengthens community and encourages discipleship by establishing schools of prayer and equipping the Body of Christ so that, unified, we can contribute to the New Evangelization. Every Church is a place where Christ should reign supreme in the hearts of the faithful, where each one, being formed in discipleship and readied for the work of evangelization, is better able to live the one faith preached in the Gospel. To this end, four pillars of COP have been developed to serve the Body of Christ: community, discipleship, evangelization, and unity. Each of these was foundational to the early church and is still vital today.

Curtis Stephan

Fri – 8:30AM (Arena) | Fri – 5:45PM (Arena) | Sat – 9:30AM (Arena) | Sat – 12:45PM (HAPS)

When Curtis Stephan finished his master’s degree from UNT in jazz studies, he never realized where God’s plan would take him. Originally invited to play guitar, sing, and lead music at a youth mass at the rapidly growing parish of St. Ann in Coppell, TX, Curtis quickly learned that the path in music ministry is long and filled with adventure. As composer, that road led him to spiritandsong.com, a division of Oregon Catholic Press, who has published many of his contemporary works including a popular new mass setting for the Revised Roman Missal, the “Mass of Renewal.” As artist and worship leader, Curtis has served the church internationally in venues large and small, including National Catholic Youth Conferences, World Youth Days in Germany, Australia and Spain; he was a featured performer at the special event for 40,000 youth in Turin, Italy with Pope Benedict XVI. As a disciple and witness, you see his deep roots in the church and genuine love for helping others grow closer to Christ. The adventure is mostly lived at his home parish of St. Ann where he serves as music director, but when he’s not chasing his two young sons around and as his wife allows, Curtis often travels to places near and far offering dynamic workshops in music and spirituality.

David Thies

In Our Midst
Fri – 4:00PM (HAPS)
In Our Midst is Joan Grabowski, Bob Sandford, James Baird, and friends. At the core of their group, these three musicians are long-time collaborators who enjoy a calling to use their God-given talents to glorify Him through music. Started twenty years ago with just vocals, guitar and bass, In Our Midst’s ministry focused on bringing musical excellence to Roman Catholic liturgical music. Since then they have added spirituals and contemporary Christian music and have added instrumentation like drums and piano. In their music, In Our Midst seeks to honor the voices of each instrument as equal partners in the ministry. They believe that the resulting chemistry, when coupled with the Holy Spirit, has a greater potential for opening hearts to His grace. The group is currently working on a new CD. For more information, check out their website: inourmidst.net.

Joe has a true heart for worship and the ministry of the Church, with a special focus on young people. He now leads worship full time and is regularly involved in retreats and silly videos to reach the hearts of teens everywhere. He has a passionate love for Christ and a committed desire to lead students on a quest to develop a personal relationship with Jesus. He also understands that all believers are in different stages of the journey towards heaven. If there was only one verse in the Bible he would share with you, it would be Jeremiah 29:11 and that God has a plan for you!

Tony Meléndez de origen nicaragüense. Cuando niño, Tony veía a su papá tocar la guitarra y sintió el gran deseo de poderla tocar también, hasta que un día su papá puso la guitarra en el suelo. “Tony,” dijo, “anda a lavarte los pies.” Tony lavó sus pies y se sentó a tocar la guitarra por primera vez. Nunca dejó que su condición física le desanimara, y con mucho esfuerzo y práctica, aprendió a tocarla magistralmente con los dedos de sus pies. Practicaba hasta 6 horas diarias “(…) hasta que la bulla comenzó a oírse como música (…)” como dice el mismo Tony. Aunque no tiene brazos, en su plática sobresale su positivismo, un férreo amor por Dios, una fe inquebrantable y los deseos de hacer hasta el final algo que para muchos pareciera imposible, tocar la guitarra con los pies. Ahora, con 42 años, casado y con dos hijos, reside en Branson, Missouri. Ha dado conciertos en cuarenta países y vendido más de 60,000 ejemplares de su autobiografía “A gift of hope” que en español se ha traducido como “Un Regalo de Esperanza.”
Al compartir su historia, Tony nos presenta un mensaje positivo que nos hace entender que con todas nuestras facultades físicas y mentales, tenemos la capacidad, las habilidades y los talentos necesarios para dejar a un lado las excusas y emprender el apasionante camino hacia el éxito personal. La experiencia de conocer a Tony, verlo tocar su guitarra y escuchar su historia narrada por él mismo es algo indescriptible que cambiará su vida.

Se constata que los profesores, estudiantes y los miembros del clero en su conjunto, adoptan y utilizan el lenguaje inherente a la ideología de género sin saberlo. IX-51 HISTORIA Y PROCESO DEL RICA
Miguel Arias Ballroom A2
El RICA es un proceso de conversión. Los cristianos se hacen, no nacen, no hay nada automático o instantáneo en la iniciación de adultos. Aunque la instrucción doctrinal es una parte del proceso, la iniciación de adultos busca cambiar el corazón y transformar el espíritu. La iniciación de adultos es de la comunidad cristiana que inicia sus rango a nuevos miembros, y por lo tanto debe efectuarse en comunidad.

IX-55 EL SACRAMENTO DE LA RECONCILIACIÓN
Alejandro Ordieres A304
El hombre es un extranjero cuya patria definitiva es el cielo. La guía está trazada pero el camino no siempre es suave y fácil de andar. El sacramento de la reconciliación no sólo nos lleva a encontrar la senda perdida por el pecado sino que nos fortalece y anima en nuestra trayectoria. Como sacramento, no sólo proporciona el perdón solicitado al Creador sino que llena el alma de las gracias necesarias para perseverar en nuestros objetivos. Como Santa Teresa decía: “Yo me hago responsable de la salvación del hombre que recurre frecuentemente al perdón divino”.

IX-57 MUJERES DEL NUEVO TESTAMENTO
Pía Septién A302-303
El propósito de esta plática es presentar a algunas de las mujeres sobre las cuales leemos en el Nuevo Testamento. Mujeres que vivieron en la época de Jesús, que quizá lo conocieron personalmente y platicaron con él, o quizás fueron parte de la primera comunidad cristiana. Conversaremos sobre lo que vieron en él que las llevó a seguirlo y a tener una relación de amistad con él como Martha y María. Y también conversaremos sobre lo que Jesús vio en ellas: almas que necesitaban del amor de Dios, tal como se lo hizo saber a la mujer Samaritana a quien le dijo: “Si conocieras el don de Dios”. Esta charla busca precisamente conocer el don de Dios, traído por Cristo a esas mujeres del Nuevo Testamento, y en ellas a todos nosotros, hombres y mujeres del siglo XXI.

Visit the Ballroom A Lobby, where we’ve assembled images from fine quality liturgical art being created across the country. These artists were chosen and invited to participate in the exhibition by a committee of liturgical artists. Whether the medium is stained glass, bronze, mosaic or other traditional media, these works were created with a specific site and purpose in mind. Successful liturgical art requires collaboration between the artist, the commissioning parish and the architect. The artists whose work is reflected here have the talents to transform scripture into tangible, inspiring forms.

On behalf of the entire conference committee, we extend our gratitude to the many artists whose works were selected to enrich our conference experience.

History of the 2011 UDMC Cross

The hand-carved crucifix used at the University of Dallas Ministry Conference is the work of the late long-time UD Professor of Art, Heri Bert Bartscht. It was created in the late 50’s, when Heri emigrated from Germany after the War. Heri was a young German Catholic artist drafted into the military under Hitler’s regime and served at Stalingrad. He survived that horrendous battle and slaughter because he suffered from frostbite on his feet and was evacuated to Germany.

Many of the artists of the modern period in Europe after WWII made crucifixes that recall the holocaust and horror of the war experience, offering versions of a suffering Christ on the Cross. Heri’s work is not different in that respect. However it contains a further dimension—the horror of the tragic war as witnessed by Christ on the Cross. On Christ’s face Heri expressed an insight that is often forgotten in the crucifixes made by artists over the centuries, the horror of man’s inhumanity to man. In doing so the crucifix explores the nature of Christ as omniscient, seeing all, knowing all, grieving over the evil of the Calvary that is and the horrors of the future.

We are asked in our faith to utilize the offerings of individual artists and their theological insights to further the life of the faithful. The University of Dallas is proud to loan this piece, property of the Church of the Incarnation, to the Conference.

The Figure of St. Francis

During the Conference, the artist, Lyle Novinski, Professor Emeritus of the University of Dallas will be carving a figure of St. Francis for the Notre Dame Court, a new independent living facility adjacent to the diocesan retirement home, St. Joseph Residence. Construction of the new Notre Dame Court and the expansion of St. Joseph Residence recognize a burgeoning need for elder care in our aging population.

On the proposed site for Notre Dame Court grew a magnificent multi-trunk Bois D’Arc Tree, a favorite of St. Joseph Residence Administrator, Sr. Adelaide Bocanegra, BETHL. Sister has served as Administrator since 1965, and in that time, watched the tree grow from a sapling. It was impossible to build around the great tree.

But in the great Catholic tradition of death and renewal, the tree has new life. Developer Joe Dingman called on Lyle Novinski to help honor Sister’s service by carving a St. Francis statue for the new Notre Dame Court while Board Chairman Dan Flaherty found use for its timber in a cross over the expansion of St. Joseph Residence.

Unlike typical smooth and polished statues of saints, St. Francis is depicted emerging from the Bois D’Arc log. Novinski’s rough transition between figure and tree is indicative of the inseparable connection of man and nature. The carving, while expressive, retains robust evidence of the hand of man in its chisel marks.
Catholic Charities Banner Display

Jesus invites each one of us, “Come, follow me” (Mt 4:19). As His Church, we walk together in faith and support each other through community prayer and service. Catholic Charities of Dallas invites the Dallas Catholic community to walk with us in following Jesus by “providing help and creating hope, regardless of faith.”

As you walk through the convention center throughout this UD Ministry Conference, you may notice nine extraordinary 6 foot banners. These banners were the creative fruit of a collaborative project between the Senior DECATS students and Catholic Charities of Dallas. An introductory banner, 7 artistic reflections on each of the seven Catholic Social Teachings, and a ‘Call to Action’ banner demonstrate the beauty of integrating faith education and service. These are but one example of how Catholic Charities of Dallas is prioritizing our faith call to walk together in faith integrating our social teaching and service opportunities for students and adults alike.

The University of Dallas is not new company on this journey; we continue to celebrate a shared ministerial vision of education and service. We welcome students at the undergraduate and graduate levels to join us through Service Learning opportunities and we look forward to sharing our mission with undergraduates at their Charity week and a possible future internship opportunity.

We follow Jesus, walking together in faith, through our Elderly and Family Assistance Services, Children and Adoption Services and Community Outreach, Immigration and Legal Services and Refugee Empowerment Services. We invite you: students, volunteers, ministers and parishioners to walk with us on this journey of faith in “providing help, creating hope…regardless of faith” because of our faith.

“Today’s classroom is a competitive place. Average students struggle to keep up, while motivated learners are often bored. Many are looking for extra help in order to gain an advantage. iCue Network has a perfect solution: iCue Academic Coaching™.

“iCue Network provides an opportunity for teachers to earn supplemental income while offering their services online to families seeking to get ahead in a competitive academic environment.

“Parents hire coaches to train their children in sports, music and other competitive skills; why not hire a coach to help a child navigate the competitive environment of today’s classroom? Skilled academic coaching to elementary students provides the advantage of higher scores on standardized testing, potentially qualifying those students for invitation into prestigious gifted and talented programs. Students in higher grades gain the assistance needed to help them plan for college, and recent research indicates that undergraduate students who receive coaching are more likely to stay in college and graduate.”

– Randy Resendez, Education Consultant
San Antonio, Texas

iCueNetwork.com offers

• US state-certified public school teachers and otherwise degreed private and parochial school teachers for the tutor/mentoring experience.

• lesson-capture technology, which is not available with learning centers, private tutors, or most online tutor sites, so that learners can revisit and review sessions as often as desired at no additional cost.

• a better income opportunity for its tutor members than traditional online tutor sites, including a referral-based incentive program.

Shurley English is a dynamic English curriculum for grades K-8. We are known for our unique blend of grammar, skills, and writing.

Shurley English is a rigorous curriculum that brings back student-teacher interaction, promotes higher-order thinking skills, and provides students with a successful base from which they can achieve far above their expectations.

Shurley English utilizes the different learning styles, with enough repetition for students to master grammar easily and incorporates the part-to-whole philosophy.

Grade Levels K-8

Invest in your students’ success by giving them the treasure of solid gold communication skills.

SHURLEY ENGLISH

15 weeks of targeted GRAMMAR

Shurley Grammar covers only the practical and essential materials associated with grammar learning. Although sentence construction is extensively applied, it does not comprise the comprehensive skills, revising and editing, nor the writing techniques that are covered in the full-featured Shurley English program. By focusing on the fundamentals, Shurley Grammar helps students understand each sentence part and how they work together to create a variety of sentences.
