CIVIL RIGHTS PROCEDURE – DISABILITY ACCOMMODATIONS

- 1.0 Purpose – St. John Paul II explained that “human beings, independently of the conditions in which they live or of what they are able to express, have a unique dignity and a special value from the very beginning of their life until the moment of natural death.” (Message on the Occasion of the International Symposium on the Dignity and Rights of the Mentally Disabled Person, 5 January 2004). Part of recognizing that dignity and value is demonstrated in a community’s efforts to enable people with disabilities “to participate in social life as far as they can, and ... to fulfill all their physical, psychological and spiritual potential.”
- 1.1 In order to facilitate the participation of people with disabilities in the life of the University community, and in accordance with University policy and state and federal law, the University provides reasonable accommodations so as to provide people with disabilities meaningful access to the employment and educational opportunities provided by the University.
