

University of Dallas Parent,

Are you wondering which health insurance option is best for your college student – your employer health insurance plan or possibly an individual plan purchased through the Health Insurance Marketplace?

Another choice is Wellfleet, your child’s school-sponsored health insurance plan administered by Academic HealthPlans and underwritten by Wellfleet Group, LLC.

Why choose University of Dallas’ Student Health Plan?

Cost

The Student Health Insurance Plan underwritten by Wellfleet is designed and priced for students, not the general market, so premiums are often less than comparable Marketplace plans and less than employer plans. Most campus health services are covered at 100 percent with no deductible. Some employer plans limit coverage to emergency room care when received out of the plan’s area.

Network

With Wellfleet, students have access to a broad network of doctors through Cigna’s Provider Network, so they are covered at home, school and nationwide. This is important if your student is attending school far from home or in another state.

Member Advantages

Students enrolled in the Student Health Insurance Plan have access to:

- 24/7 Nurseline
- Virtual Visits
- Mental Health Support
- Online and mobile tools for easy access to information
- Life and Wellbeing Resources
- ACA Compliant Health Plan

Before you choose coverage for your student, compare the facts and know the differences between the student health insurance plan and other plans. Visit udallas.myahpcare.com for more information on the student health plan and how to enroll.
